Wintering in the Mines.

Now that our paper is enlarged, we shall, in this and subsequent numbers, devote more space to the subject of mining and mines than our circumscribed limits have heretofore allowed us to indulge in. We shall, to the best of our information, give a concise, yet full account of whatever may be of interest to those of our readers here, and elsewhere, who look with an eager gaze to the groundwork whence all our wealth and importance are derived; and after a succession of impartially written articles, perhaps the inquirer after correct knowledge will be able to deduct facts which will enable him to arrive at a correct conclusion in regard to this all-important topic. Our present space will be taken up with a few facts and speculations relative to the prospects of the miners during the approaching winter, as being of the most interest at the present time. And in the first place, we will correct an erroneous impression which pervades the minds of many who have never visited the mines, that the dry digings, exclusively, are accessible during the rainy season. Such is not the fact. Many old miners cling to the streams with great tenacity. Selecting as comfortabie a location as can be found, they pitch their tent or erect their cabin, collect together their provisions and firewood for the winter, and as opportunities present, emerge from their shelter and collect together as much of the precious dust as circumstances will allow of. In making arrangements for the rainy season, generally six or eight club together for the purpose of building and messing. In digging, from one to three act in concert. There are three reasons why portions of those in the mines prefer the dry diggings. The first is, there are not so many people there; the second is, the miner is surer of being remunerated according to the labor performed; for in the dry field of operation, while the great majority may not be able to make their expenses, now and then one will strike a lead which will put money in his pocket—thus rendering the dry diggings more in the nature of a lottery than the efforts on the streams. The third reason is, the miner is on the stream early in the spring, and he follows the water as it recedes, at the approach of the dry season. In this way he may secure a bar on which he can operate for three or four months. There are miners at the present time in this city who are anxiously awaiting for an opportunity to get provisions high up on the Yuba and Feather rivers; while, at the same time, we learn from gentlemen direct from those streams that it requires man's greatest effort to enable him to get along without any incumbrance, so swollen are the streams and in such condition are the roads. Among those from that quarter, whom we have conversed with, there is but one opinion, and that is, that there is not half enough provision there to supply the people during the winter, and that if the great body of the miners continue to entertain the opinion that opportunities will yet offer for them to supply themselves with provision, there must be an unparalelled amount of suffering before the rainy season is over, because after a time it will be impossible for them to retreat. Many are now in the mines with a supply of provision for two or three weeks, who intend, at the expiration of that time, to return to the settlements and remain during the winter. From the branches of the American river, and the dry diggings in the vicinity of the same, we learn that there are many who have recently arrived from over the plains; and the rainy weather commencing so early is particularly hard on this portion of our immigrants, for even were provisions as easy of access and as cheap as during the summer and a portion of the fall, many of these people would not be able to supply themselves for the winter, as a large portion of them have recently arrived, and some of them are much debilitated by their toilsome and protracted journey. In the neighborhood of the North and South Forks of the American river there are immense congregations of miners. So rapidly have they collected together that quite populous towns have sprung up in the course of three or four weeks. This sudden visitation of the liquid element has entirely checked operations and taken miners all aback; and there being so few of the necessaries of life within their reach, it is thought there will be a general rush for this place and San Francisco very soon, as in fact there is now.

We learn from those direct from the dry diggings of the North Fork, that the roads are altogether impassable for teams, and for packing, it requires all the vigilance of the driver to keep the animals on their feet. To get up and down the high hills, which are always found in close proximity to the streams, it is altogether impossible for four-legged animals to "propel" at all. In the Southern mines the same unfortunate state of things exist. The deduction to be drawn from all the information we have at present, is that few miners are making more than their daily bread, and that, as a matter of course, new beginners will form unfavorable opinions of mining, before they have fairly applied the spade to the earth. The first opportunity that presents for them to drive a quill, they will pour forth anathemas on the country and the "gold humbug," in letters to their friends in the States. We hope and trust that those who hold up and struggle through the winter, (and it will be a hard trial for many) and pass the next season in the mines, will then have a more cheerful duty to perform in writing to their acquaintances.

An hombre came into the city last Sunday, with all his pockets stuffed, beside some large specimens, which he seemed to take delight in exhibiting to those who eagerly crowded round him. Some sporting gentlemen offered him large premiums for several pieces which they wished to procure, to ornament their banks; but he "no quiero." In answer to queries, as to where he procured his lucre, his answer was, "over the hills;" and he went on his way rejoicing.

The effect the state of things we have briefly alluded to above will have upon flour and pork—the two most important articles for the miner—is simply this: while the former may maintain its present standard in price, the latter will come down; because, if miners winter in the cities and towns, there will be little or no consumption of pork, as every one knows it is used in very limited quantities both here and in San Francisco. And as to flour, many vessels have already been despatched down the coast for the article, and we have no doubt that within three months the market will be abundantly supplied.—[Placer Times, (Sacramento City) Nov. 24.

SAN FRANCISCO.

☞We are still utterly unable to procure, from any quarter, a supply of paper suitable for the publication of our Tri-Weekly edition, in its original form; and are therefore obliged, much to our inconvenience and regret, to strike off, three small sheets, instead of one of a larger size. We have reason to believe, however, that we shall receive some paper, of the proper size, in the course of a week.

The Missions Property.

We publish the following communication, which comes to us from a very intelligent source, and relates to a matter which has recently excited considerable attention in our community, without professing to have minutely investigated the facts of the particular case to which it refers. The writer, we think, however, is not strictly accurate, in one of his statements. If we correctly understand him to mean, in one passage of his communication, that in the late treaty with Mexico, the Church or Missions lands, in the possession of Mexican ecclesiastics, and situated in the territories ceded to the United States, are specially and expressly named and protected, in distinction from other real estate belonging to Mexicans in such ceded territories. The fact is that the eighth article of the treaty provides for the secure enjoyment of all their property by all Mexican citizens, who may reside in the ceded territories, and may elect to continue there; and also for the security of property in such territories, when owned by Mexicans who may reside elsewhere. The ninth article stipulates farther, that all Mexican citizens, in the ceded territories, who shall elect to become American citizens, shall, in due time, (to be judged of by Congress,) be admitted to the enjoyment of all the rights of American citizens, "and, in the mean time, shall be maintained and protected in the free enjoyment of their liberty and property, and secured in the free exercise of their religion, without restriction."

It will be perceived, that in neither of these articles, clear and strong as their stipulations are, is any special and separate mention made of Church or Missions property el nomine. Nor do we find any such special mention made of Church property, in the treaty, until we come to the twenty-second article of the treaty, which does not relate, at all, to the ceded territories, but to the territories, respectively, of Mexico, and of the United States, and to the manner in which war shall be prosecuted by the beligerents respectively, in the territories of the other, in case a state of war should occur between them. In such case, churches and charitable establishments are specially named and protected.

With this single remark, we leave our correspondent to speak for himself.

"Mission Dolores."—A considerable excitement has recently been created in our community in relation to the "Mission Dolores," in this district, and rights of the priest to control the same. There is also a rumor now current, and generally credited, to the effect that a number of persons have within a few days, taken possession of the ground contiguous to the mission building and belonging to it; and that it is the intention of these persons to retain it.

In the hope that we shall not incur the charge of presumption for giving our views upon the matter, we can scarcely believe that such a subject can fail to arrest the attention of our authorities, or the public at large. The property of the mission from the time of the acquisition of this country, has ever been regarded, both by the military and civil authorities, sacred to the object for which it was originally intended and appropriated, and which by the terms of the treaty, is an estate, remaining beyond peradventure, lawfully under the control of its possessor, the priest.

It has ever been a source of gratification to us to know that these missions have been a peculiar exception to the customary usages of conquest and occupation, and that in the various proclamations emanating from official authorities, both during and after the war, they were the special subjects of commendation, and were not only recognized as rightful possessions, in the control of the officiating priest, in each mission, but courts and justices were authorised and required to protect by the enforcement of law, the churches and other property of missions; and on more occasions than one were those who had wantonly violated the sanctity of a mission building, driven from their position at the point of the American bayonet.

While in the course thus pursued was manifest a desire upon the part of the American authorities to do no discredit to their country, they were also actuated by the higher and loftier motives of respect and esteem for the institutions of charity and benevolence which they found, like the oasis in the desert, flourishing in beautiful relief amid the sparsely settled sections of this western country.

While these institutions are revered by a people who yet are attached by the most tender ties to the country which gave them birth, there still remains impressed upon their hearts a deep and lasting remembrance of the many and noble efforts of our authorities to afford to them protection in the enjoyment of their children, their priests, and their missions, and it would indeed be a stain upon our country's escutcheon, and a lasting disgrace to the enlightenment and intelligence which now irradiate this prosperous country, if at this late day the hand of desecration should be allowed to spread its blighting influence in our midst.

That ample justice will be done, and wholesome law administered, so soon as the matter shall be brought within the cognizance of our courts, we do not doubt, and we earnestly hope that in due time the property of missions will be secured and fortified by legislative enactments; and that they may be allowed to stand as they have heretofore stood, dispensing charity to the world, and building up a noble weight of testimony to the spirit of American toleration and religious freedom.

☞Up to the time of our going to press, the steamer Oregon, due from Panama, had not arrived. It has been understood here, that she was to leave Panama on the 5th of November.

Latest News from Stockton & the mines. We have been permitted, by the kindness of Mr. Dunbar, of the Merchants Exchange, to copy the following items from their News Book:

The roads have been rendered absolutely impassable for the last two weeks, from Stockton to the mines, in consequence of the continued rains. The communication is now open again, and the first train of mules went up to the "diggins" on Wednesday. Business, which has been very dull at Stockton for the past ten days, is now brisk, and every article of food commands the highest price. Lumber, also, is very scarce, and selling as high as $800 and $1000 per thousand feet. Common packing boxes have been broken up, and sold at 80 cts. per superficial foot. Traders are coming in from all directions to purchase goods, and every mule in the town has been hired, to take provisions to the mines, at 50 cts. per lb.

Every kind of food is selling, at the diggins, for one dollar per lb, and many of the miners have come in, anticipating a scarcity of provisions.

There was a heavy frost at Stockton, on Wednesday night.

From Oregon.

Correspondence of the Pacific News.

Astoria, October 22, 1849.

To the Editor of the Pacific News: I arrived here, safely, in the brig Sarah McFarland, after a short and pleasant passage of fifteen days. The brig Quito arrived here yesterday, having been twenty-seven days outside the river, and being short of water, she sent a boat ashore, and, after an absence from the vessel of two days, while attempting to push off from shore three men, and the boat, were lost. The barque Toulon is ashore, north of the channel, about two miles below this place, and about discharging into the Sarah McFarland. The brigs John Petty and O. C. Raymond, with the barque Azim arrived on the 21st. All these vessels had been lying off the Columbia, in the fogs and smoke, for some weeks. Our pilot, for whom we were waiting outside five days, came on board from the brig Henry, on her way out.

There are only two pilots here, where there is sufficient work for ten, and vessels, consequently, are detained longer than need be. The pilot I allude to was Capt. White, of the pilot boat Hackstaff, which lately, on her way to Oregon, being short of water, put into Rogue's river, when the Indians attacked the crew, and drove them from their vessel, which previously had run on the sand bar, and was lying high and dry. They made their way to Oregon, after being nearly starved for the last four days. General Smith has left, in the ship Patterson, for Puget Sound. The Sarah McFarland has the best accommodations for passengers, and has made the best passage of any vessel that has yet arrived. The Sylvie de Grasse is a perfect wreck, and vessels are busy taking out the lumber.

Send up some pilots, as there is a first rate chance for them, it being impossible for a vessel to get in without one.

CITY ITEMS.

REPORTED FOR THE NEWS, BY "BOSTON."

A Rich Present.—We were shown, yesterday, at the extensive jewelry establishment of W. A. Woodruff, a gold snuff box, of curious design and finished workmanship, intended for a present to Gen. Riley, by the members of the convention that framed our State Constitution. It is, we understand, to be presented at the time of the organization of the new government, on the 13th prox., when the General resigns the gubernatorial seals of office to the Governor elect of the new State of California.

The box is about three inches long by two wide, and one inch deep. The outside is composed of natural specimens of virgin gold, of different sizes neatly fitted and soldered together in a very skillful and substantial manner, so that the whole has much the appearance of one solid rough mass of metal, as it was taken from the mines. The inside is perfectly plain, and very highly burnished. On the top of the lid, is a plain surface of about an inch in diameter, enclosed in a raised ring, richly chased, and within this ring is a raised initial script letter R, set round with pearls of different sizes, according to the swell of the letter. The whole was designed by Caleb Lyon, Esq., of Lyonsdale, and is, with regard to the man to whom it is presented peculiarly appropriate—if somewhat rough outside, possessing great intrinsic value, and smooth and polished within. The box is valued at $800.

We cannot perceive any gain to the public by our city authorities driving from Portsmouth Square, the poor men who were earning an honest living by keeping coffee and fruit stands, &c., and having the same space occupied, as at present, by boxes, carts, rubbish and lumber.

There has been much complaint, lately, of the careless manner in which gunpowder is kept in some stores, in the central part of the town. We hope our City Council will give their attention to this matter soon, and thereby prevent a "blowing up."

The Ore.—We saw a lump of gold, on a table at the Eldorado, the other day, that weighed thirty-two ounces. A curious specimen, weighing but $250 was sold at Woodruff's, the other day, for $900!

A great nuisance and one that should be immediately abated—the leaving of dead mules to decay in the public streets of the city. Every person so offending should be prosecuted to the fullest extent. We observe that the slaughtering of cattle, is still continued by some persons, on Jackson, near the corner of Stockton street, contrary to the ordinance recently published.

STEALING AND STABBING AT STOCKTON. We learn from Mr. J. W. Stillman, who came down in the steamer on Thursday, that a monte bank, at the Branch Hotel, was robbed last Sunday night of ninety-nine ounces of gold, and that no traces have yet been discovered, of either money or thief. The next day after the robbery, a man by the name of Wilbur, meeting the captain of the schr. Wave, accosted him with "did you say that I had a hand in robbing the monte bank, last night?" The captain replied, "I did." "Then," said Wilbur, "take that!" at the same instant drawing a bowie knife and making two passes at the other, cutting a frightful gash from the left shoulder down almost to the waist, and another in the breast. The captain was immediately taken to the Hospital, where his wounds were dressed, and hopes are entertained of his recovery. We did not learn whether Wilbur was arrested or not.

We observe, at the news room of the Merchants Exchange, on Jackson street, a file of the Buenos Ayres Mercantile Gazette, from the 3d to the 18th of July, inclusive. We shall endeavor to peruse them after the departure of the steamer, when, if we find anything of interest, to our readers, it shall be transferred to our columns.

☞ A meeting of the Master Builders, of san Francisco, will be held next Monday evening, Dec. 3d, 1849, at 7 o'clock, in the Ball room of the La Belle Union.—Punctual attendance is requested.

AT a large meeting of the citizens of Mission Dolores, held at M. Foley's House, on Saturday evening, Nov. 24th, 1849, on motion, Mr. Sparks was called to the chair, J. J. Boyd, sec'y.

Mr. O. Connor then addressed the meeting, stating the cause of the call, &c. On motion a committee was appointed to draft resolutions; the following gentlemen were selected:—Messrs. Townsend, Hays and Clark.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting, that lands known as the Mission of Dolores, now unoccupied, are public lands belonging to the United States, and that American citizens, and also those who have declared their intentions to become such, are entitled to settle upon them in accordance with the laws of the United States.

Resolved, That the constitution of the United States recognises no religious test or monopoly, and that the Padre has no right whatever to lease or sell these lands known as the Mission of Dolores.

Resolved, That this meeting is opposed to speculating in public lands, and recognise no rights but those of actual settlers.

Resoved, That all American citizens who have settled upon these lands deserve the thanks of the public, and that we will aid them as may be necessary in defending these rights.

Resolved, That it is the duty of all those settling on these lands, to unite in an association for mutual protection and assistance.

Resolved, That we form ourselves into a Club for our mutual protection, in the prosecution of our rights as settlers on the public domain, and we pledge our lives and fortunes in defence of the same.

Resolved, That no test, religious or political, shall be put to members desiring admission, actual settlers alone being necessary to admit a member.

The meeting was addressed by several eminent speakers, and, on motion, that this meeting now adjourn, to meet at this place on Monday evening, at 7 o'clock.

—— Sparks, Chairman.

VOL. 1. SAN FRANCISCO, ALTA CALIFORNIA. DECEMBER 1. 1849. NO. 44.

From our Extra of Saturday.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER OREGON.

The steamer Oregon came into port this afternoon,at 1 o'clock, bringing full mails from New York, up to Oct. 16. She left Panama on the 10th November, with 290 passengers on board, and arrived here, after touching at the intermediate ports. with about 350. Through the politeness and well known promptitude of Adams & Co's. Express, we received the latest New York and Boston papers, immediately after the steamer's arrival. We are, also, much indebted, for papers, to the courtesy of Capt. Pierson.

We find, in the N. Y. Weekly Herald for California and Oregon, of Oct. 16th, extracted from the St. Louis Republican, a full account of the organization of a new state government among the mormons on the Great Salt Lake. The state thus formed is called the State of Deseret.

It is stated that a state constitution was adopted in March last, and the legislature held its first meeting on the 2d of July. The Herald predicts that the government thus formed will have a delegate in Congress.

The fall elections generally, and especially in Ohio and Pennsylvania, have resulted disastrously for the whig party

As the most interesting matter which we can give our readers, we copy the full and clear summary of the news of the Atlantic States, as given in an edition of the New York Tribune, issued specially for the Pacific Coast.

Affairs on the Atlantic Side.

The recent intelligence from California has awakened a lively interest on the Atlantic border, and the spirit of emigration is again rife in all parts of the country, incited by the flattering accounts of the continued richness and now indisputable value of the mines. At the eastward, espeeially, large numbers of returned whaling vessels and others have been purchased, fitted out, and have either started or are about starting for California, each with large and well appointed companies of prospective diggers.—Speculation is, of course, a prominent feature of these movements. It is stated that the quantity of lumber shipped from the Atlantic states for the California market will not fall short of forty millions of feet, which will command double prices at their destination. A ship captain, from Massachusetts, writes home that he is making a thousand dollars per month by conveying passengers on the Sacramento, and has remitted $3000 to his friends. Arrangements, again, have been made by a company in Baltimore, for the exportation of a party of Chesapeake fishermen, who go well provided with the necessary aparatus to prosecute their vocation on the Sacramento and in the Bay of San Francisco. California will ere long be enriched with hundreds of new arrivals, of all shades and varieties, with all manner of opinions and beliefs, and bent on all kinds of objects.—For population she will not lack; the organization of her people will be the next important topic.

The very general interest manifested by the American people in the affairs of our newly acquired Territories centers mainly in California. There every second family from Maine to Texas has a friend, a relative, for whose prospects of success they are naturally most solicitous. Hence, every arrival here is anxiously awaited and the news is greedily devoured—the excitement being a very fair counterpart of that pictured in San Francisco on like occasions. The indications of a regard for law and order, among the respectable portion of the citizens of California, and the precautionary measures for the relief of the overland emigrants, meet with warm commendation. Great things are anticipated of the Golden Region, and no little satisfaction is experienced at the decided Anti-Slavery spirit so evidently growing there.

The annexation party in Canada is evidently waxing stronger. Its leaders have just issued an Address setting forth earnestly and ably, the grievances under which they labor, and the sole effectual remedy (in their eyes,) for these evils, viz: immediate annexation to the United States. The address is signed by more than three hundred of the most respectable citizens of Montreal, including many or different parties and former differences of opinion, who are now cemented under the bond of conceived necessity.—The arguments used in this remarkable document are little else than rank 'treason,' to the Mother Country, though couched under the appearance of proper submissiveness. They are such as will command attention. The address will be found in another column of this paper. Its effect on the people of the country has not been fullty perceived, the event being yet far too recent to have elicited a full expression of public opinion.

In Lower Canada, the question of Annexation is the all engrossing theme; in the Upper Province there are few signs of its progress. The French population of the Lower are tinctured with Annexation views, but it is thought that the great mass who are still under the influence of the Priesthood, are inclined in the opposite direction. In Montreal, however, there are three influential Tory papers which take strong ground in favor of the measure, and they are supposed to be the organs of a large class of prominent and leading merchants and business men, whose interests are most affected by any new movements at home or abroad. An "Annexation Association" has been projected in Montreal for the furtherance of these doctrines, and prizes are offered for the best Essays in support of the principles it advocates. The example has been followed in the Upper Province by the formation of an "Anti-State-Church Association," established for the purpose of combating the monopoly of the Clergy Reserves—a measure which cannot but act injuriously upon the landed interests of the Province, inasmuch as extensive tracts are from time to time appropriated exclusively for the revenues of the Church Establishment.

Such is the present aspect of the affairs of our Canadian neighbors.

The Cuba and Florida troubles have settled down quietly into their old-fashioned steadiness, with a total lack of excitements of any character. The terrible 'Round Islanders' having gone their ways in peace, the Havanese appear to have recovered from their fright and go back to their customary pastimes. So another storm has been blown over.

It is feared that we shall have some trouble on the South-western frontier with the Seminoles and the Negroes—growing out of a refusal of the former to surrender to their masters certain runaway blacks who sided with the Indians in their former Florida troubles, and were taken under their wing when they emigrated westward. The first attempt for their recovery was made, it appears, toward the close of Mr. Polk's Administration, and a requisition made upon the commander of Fort Gibson to disarm the Negroes, that they might be forcibly seized. This the officer refused to do, until instructed by the Secretary of War. The matter reeeived little or no attention at the Seat of Government until the advent of the present Administration, and no definite action has yet been decided on. Meanwhile, it is asserted that the Indians are in a state of great excitement at this treatment of their 'allies,' and there are fears of further and more serious troubles before it can be settled.—Such is the latest explanation of the difficulty; what it will amount to, remains to be seen.

In the Union, all is quiet: but a few weeks will find half the States immersed in political contention. Conventions have been held in different sections, the nominations are made, the candidates in the field—and the rival parties striving anxiously to attain supremacy. Otherwise, we have little of public interest.

The French difficulty remains in the same position as before, the discarded Minister making New York his residence till his Government shall have been heard from. Sharp communications have found their way into some of our papers, supporting Mr. Poussin in the course he has taken, and endeavoring to lay the entire blame at the door of the Secretary of State; but their tone is not calculated to impress the mind with a more favorable opinion of the Minister's course. We learn by the steamer that our new Minister to France, Mr. Rives, about whose reception there was some doubt, has arrived at Paris—but nothing is known of his reception ihere.

The Government has received bitter complaints of the want of a Consul at Panama. A brother of ex-Governor Paine, of Vermont, was offered the post some time since, but declined; and we believe no one has yet been appointed.

A rumor prevailed, some time since, that Mr. Calhoun was about to resign his seat in the U. S. Senate—much to the consternation of the Southern Chivalry, to whom the eminent orator will be an invaluable adjunct, when the question of Slavery in the New Territories shall come up in Congress. The rumor, however, has been emphatically contradicted by reliable authority. The next Senate, by the way, will be a brilliant array of talent: Clay, Webster, Benton, Calhoun, Seward and Corwin for leading lights, and a host of others of all possible varieties of opinions. The debates will be eagerly watched.

Considerable anxiety is felt among our Shipping interests to know the policy of the Government in respect to Great Britain's recent abrogation of her navigation laws. Little can be definitely known until that act goes into operation, which will be in January next. It is supposed that certain discriminating regulations will be made between the commerce of the two countries; and the matter may and may not be laid before Congress, as the President may feel disposed.

Since writing the above, a telegraphic despatch from Washington announces that in consequence of this alteratson of the navigation laws, British vessels from British or foreign ports, will, under existing laws, be allowed, after the 1st of January, to enter our ports with cargoes the produce of any part of the world—and upon such terms as to duties and imports as vessels of the United States.

The recent movements of the Mormons enlist great attention. The formation of their new State, "Deseret," is an important feature in the remarkable history of this singular people. Driven from place to place; without a local habitation, where they could be assured of rest and safety; and at last exempt from persecution in their new settlement in the Salt Lake Valley, the fortunes of the Mormons have always attracted the sympathy of the well-disposed and orderly community. This last effort to form themselves into a regular organization meets many tokens of gratulation. We cannot but be impressed with their energy and persevering spirit of industry. Their agent, charged with a representation to Congress of their wants and desires, has arrived at St. Louis, on his way to Washinton.

The first Legislature of Minnesota assembled a few weeks since, and transacted a variety of appropriate legislation for the government of that Territory. Among the wise provisions of several of the Acts were bills to incorporate an Insurance and Trust Company; forbidding the selling of liquor to the Indians; charters for ferries. a memorial to Congress to improve the Mississippi River above the Falls of St. Anthony; to suppress the circulation of bank notes under certain denominations; authorizing Government subscriptions to all newspapers published in the Territory; providing for a Territorial Revenue; and a variety of others, all indicating that this new embryo State is peopled by an enlightened, well-informed and capable community. The towns are rapidly improving in population and resources, and we look forward to the day when Minnesota shall be one of the most wealthy and important of the States.

M. Cabet and the Icarians, recently settled at Nauvoo—the remains of former Morman greatness—it is said will be joined in the Spring by a large emigration from France, and perhaps Hungary. The remodeling of the Temple is contemplated by its present owners, for the purposes of a workshop, &c. The Icarians have now two hundred acres of land in cultivation and every necessary aid to comfort. The community numbers at present nearly three hundred souls.

Since our last issue, a number of distinguished men have departed this life. Among them are Edgar A. Poe, the well known Poet, who died suddenly at Baltimore, on the 7th inst.; Hon. Silas H. Jenison, for several years Governor of Vermont; and Hon. Jonathan H. Hubbard, also of Vt., Representative in Congress for two years, and from 1813 to 1845, Judge of the Supreme Court.

At Albany, a Working Men's Convention was held on the 3d inst., to nominate their own candidates for State officers, and to adopt a specific Platform. They adopted a series of resolutions expressive of their faith in, and adherence to, the principles of Honesty and Exemption, a Free Administration of Justice, the insertion of the Personal Liability clause in the existing General Manufacturing Law, and in favor of a Lien Law.

The Convention also resolved to support a Working Man's organ, and five hundred subscribers were pledged to the proposed sheet.

The National Reformers are said to have questioned the candidates for State Officers, of all parties, with reference to the doctrines of National Reform.

A terrible shipwreck occurred off the coast of Massachusetts during the Equinoctial gale of the 7th inst. The British brig St. John, from Belfast Ireland, for Boston, dragged her anchors and struck on the Grampus Rocks in the midst of the tremendous storm. The Captain officers and crew, took to the boats and landed safely, but of one hundred and twenty souls on board, ninety-nine were lost. Twenty-five bodies were washed ashore the next day.

The Equinoctial raged with equal severity, but fortunately with no further tragical occurrences, on nearly all the Northern seaboard and the Lakes. In New York it stormed tremendously for nearly two days, and with special vehemence on the night of Saturday, 6th inst. when a number of vessels were driven from their moorings, trees were uprooted in different sections of the City, and life, limb and property stood in imminent danger. The damage here, however, was not serious, and we have since been exempt from such unpleasant visitations.

IN REPLY to a card, published in the Alta California, of 22d instant, we will, at this time, merely say that the writers of that are mistaken in supposing we design to injure them; but we wished, in justice to ourselves, to correct a wrong impression that their flag was calculated to give to the public. We also deny that there was anything "malicious" in the "character" of our article of the 17th instant, but merely a desire to assert our rights, which we shall ever maintain. But if they are disposed to treat it as such, we say "lay on," etc., and we will hereafter answer "A Card" more fully, and give whatever else may emanate from them such attention as it may merit.

THE HOSPITAL OF SAN FRANCISCO.

W. H. STIVERS, M. D. Resident Physician.

Main entrance on the east or lower side of Stockton street, between Clay and Sacramento streets, south-west of and near the Post Office.

THIS establishment is composed of an extensive range of buildings recently erected, and formerly, in part, occupied for a Hospital by our fellow-citizen Dr. Melhado. Its arrangements are, in all respects, most commodious; on a scale, indeed, suited to the various and rapidly increasing wants of both citizens and strangers. The position is one of the best that could be chosen—elevated, healthy, and easy of access, with excellent water, and commanding a fine view of the bay. There is also attached to the premises an elegantly fitted up Bathing House, where cold, warm, hot and medicated baths may be had, at all hours. The Baths for the use of the public are entirely SEPARATE and DISTINCT from those devoted to patients

The Hospital of san Francisco is the FIRST, and, in fact, the ONLY Institution established on the Pacific coast, on a broad, liberal and sure foundation. It is a refuge for the sick—a home for the invalid, where comfortable quarters, good nursing, watchful medical treatment, and suitable diet will do all that human effort can do to alleviate suffering and restore to health.

The Terms are placed on the most moderate basis, being in truth, about one-third to one-sixth less than the expenses necessarily encountered by the sick, under any other arrangement.

TERMS.

1st class, one in a single room, neatly furnished, $16,00 per day.
2d class, two in a room, neatly furnished, each $10,00 per day.
3d class, in wards, neatly furnished, each $5,00 per day.

☞ In all surgical cases, and cases of Insanity, there will be an extra charge.

NEW CITY HOSPITAL.—A home for the sick, on Kearny street, between Sacramento and California streets.

Drs. PAINE & COLTON have fitted up a new and commodious building at the above place, where they are prepared to receive patients on terms so low, that all who require medical attendance, will find it for their interest to place themselves under their care.

They have employed Dr. H. Pease as nurse, (and who will also superintend the culinary department,) and do all that kindness and care can do, to restore to speedy health those who may patronize the establishment.

For terms &c., call as above.

STOCKTON FORWARDING, COMMISSION AND REAL ESTATE AGENCY.

The subscribers, under the firm and style of HEATH and EMORY, have completed their arrangements in the city of Stockton, and are now prepared, at their office and warehouse, at the corner of first and El Dorado sts., to freight to any part of the southern mines: comprising the Moquelemas, Angel's and Murphy's Camps, Wood's Creek, the Calaveras, Stanislaus, Tuoalome, Mercede, Mariposa and King's rivers. Teams and pack mules will start from their establishment every day for the above places.

The prices of freight, the time of starting, and all other matters of interest connected with the mines, or the facilities of getting to or from them, may be ascertained at their office. Goods and baggage will also be stored with great care, the subscribers having for that purpose erected a large, water-proof, plank-floored warehouse.

The subscribers also offer for sale 150 of the most valuable lots in the city, located in very desirable positions on both sides of the river. A map of the city may be seen at the office. RICH'D W. HEATH,

"OAK HALL!"

WHEREAS, some ambitious person has opened a "seven by nine" shop, near the City Hotel, with the sign of "Oak Hall," we feel it a duty we owe to the public, to him with whom the name originated and to ourselves, to state that said shop is in no way connected with the original establishment, and that we are the only House in California that has any right to make use of the name of Oak Hall, which is as much the property of the proprietor of that establishment as is the reputation he has won. As a branch of that house, we shall, from this time, take its name, and hope to merit as liberal a share of patronage from the people of California as has been extended to the house by the inhabitants of the Atlantic states. REVIEW OF THE MARKET.

Ashes—There is some enquiry for pots, but none in the market. Saleratus continues to improve; we notice sales of 1000 lbs. at 87½ cents, and 1350 lbs., at 8[illegible] cents.

Building Materials—Lumber still maintains high prices. Several cargoes Eastern have been brought into the market within the last two days; the continued fine weather, and the demand for up the river, however, prevent any decline in prices. A large number of houses, of different sizes, have recently arrived from the States, and sell readily at fair prices, but, as a general rule, do not yield as great a profit to the importer as unworked lumber.

Bricks—There is a moderate supply of bricks now arriving, and small lots, as wanted, readily bring our quotations.

Lime—There has been a decline in this article since the rains have commenced; builders prefer cement, which has advanced in proportion.

Boots and Shoes—There is always a brisk demand for these articles. Heavy boots and brogans are much wanted, and would readily bring our quotations.

Coal—We have no change to notice since our last.

Coffee—There is a gradual improvement in this article. There is, however, a good supply on hand.

Candles—Since our last the market has received supplies of sperm, by recent arrivals; they are firm at our quotations. Sales of 300 boxes of New Bedford at $2 41, and 100 boxes Kingsland's at $2 37½.

Domestic Goods—The stock of Domestic Goods is almost exhausted, and all descriptions suited to this market are in request. Unbleached cottons particularly are very much wanted.

Fish—All kinds of salt fish are much wanted; there are few of any description in the market.

Flour and Meal—The supplies of these articles is fair, and prices have declined since our last. Some large sales of Chili flour have been made at $32; and a lot of 250 200 lb. bags, on terms not made public. Good sound corn meal is in request and readily brings our quotations.

Fruit—There is but a very limited supply of any descriptions in market; prime articles of this class are quick at our quotations

Molasses—There has been a very brisk demand for this article, since our last There is a moderate supply on hand, and prices have rapidly advanced and are still tending upward.

Metals—Bars remain without change. Sheets generally, have improved a shade.

Oils—All descriptions have advanced. Linseed is much wanted for painter's use. The high prices of candles has prodeced an activity in oils for burning, and caused them to advance.

Paints—There is a large supply of paints in the market. The demand is fair, however, and prices are slightly improving.

Provisions—The activity noticed in our last, has partially subsided, and prices are declining. Fresh arrivals of pork and beef have increased the stock on hand, and the demand for the upper country is now comparatively light.

Soap—The improvement in good browns still continues. In fancy soaps there is no change.

Sugars—The stock of sugars on hand is light, and prices improving. Sales of 3000 lbs. loaf, at 50c. and 11,000 lbs. good brown at 20½c.

Tobacco—The stock of tobacco still continues large. Prices are, however, improving.

Wines and Liquors—The improvement noticed in our last, has been fully sustained, and prices are still advancing. An important event has recently occurred in the liquor market, which must have the effect of increasing the prices of stocks on hand. Heretofore, liquors in cases and bottles, have been admitted into this port, without regard to the clause in the revenue laws prohibiting the introduction of spirituous liquors in packages of less than fifteen gallons. The arrival of Col. Collier, the new collector of this port, and the due enforcement of the above clause, has had the effect of shutting out from the market large quantities of liquors, in cases, from foreign ports, and which has heretofore formed at least one-half the consumption of this port, and the export to the upper country.

Exchange—There is very little doing for this steamer; persons remitting prefer sending Gold Dust, of which a large amount will go forward. Exchange on London 47d. 60 days par. On Paris 4 f 80, 60 days par Valparaiso 7 to 9 per ct. prem. Gold Dust $16 per oz.
